SPRING INTO TAWA MARKET DAY ALMOST HERE

Join us at "Spring into Tawa" Market Day on Saturday 13 September. It'll take place at the Main Road central shopping centre from 9am to 12.30pm, wet or fine, with more than 60 stalls selling everything from cakes and sausages to Asian food, plants, jewellery and various gifts, and handing out information. There may even be an election candidate or two with whom you can converse (or avoid).

Throughout the morning there'll be various entertainment including the Red Hackle Pipe Band marching along the Main Road at 11am. Emergency services including the Fire Brigade and Police will also be taking part.

Thanks to Ron Baker and Ray Lindsay from the Tawa Residents' Association, and Mandy Russell at the Tawa Community Centre for the part they've all played in organising the event, and to Robert Tredger, Tawa Community Board chair, for posing for the photograph at right (along with helping put in place the various billboards).

TAWA GOES TO TOWN - GET YOUR TICKET NOW!

"Tawa Goes to Town" is again the theme for this year's Tawa Schools' and Community Music Festival which takes place in the Michael Fowler Centre on Tuesday 23 September at 7.30pm. ARE YOU KEEPING UP WITH WHAT'S HAPPENING IN TAWA?

CONGRATULATIONS TAWA!

"Exciting to hear that Tawa has topped the 500 member mark - you're the first suburb outside Auckland to reach this special milestone!" [Auckland had a head start - Ed.].

That's the wording in an email that came through from Sarah Moore, Neighbourly's Head of Communications in Auckland on 25 August. She goes on to ask why Neighbourly is working so well in Tawa. We told her it's because Tawa is a very neighbourly suburb (of course!) with a great community spirit. You only have to look at the comments posted in people's profiles on the site to confirm that many residents feel that way! And the website really is a great way of being better 'connected'. So well done to all who have joined so far!

HOP IN = HOLIDAY DROP IN

ARE YOU INTERESTED IN A VIBRANT TAWA?

Would you, your neighbour or someone you know in Tawa be interested in participating in an exploratory discussion on developing the vibrancy of Tawa?

I'm interested in gathering ideas on what we can do as a community to increase the popularity of Tawa as a destination. Petone has developed a reputation for attractive eateries and quirky shops - what can we do to characterise Tawa? Please email me before Wednesday Sept 17th: hassed@xtra.co.nz if you or someone you know in Tawa would like to participate.

Thank you
Tony Hassed

HEADS UP FOR KIDS

The Lions Club of Tawa is part of a Lions project that collects unwanted money - old, new or foreign which is used to support our youth.

To date nearly 40 tonnes of coins have been collected nationwide, adding up to over half a million dollars. At the end of 2013 over 100 young people benefited from Heads Up for Kids, receiving scholarships to organisations such as Spirit of Adventure and Sir Edmund Hillary Outdoor Pursuits Centres. Further info: www.lionsclubs.org.nz/headsupforkids

The Reserve Bank of New Zealand estimates that there is $80 million in old decimal and pre-decimal NZ coins and $20 million in old bank notes unaccounted for. Lions Clubs of New Zealand are hoping to collect $1 million.

For Tawa residents old money can be deposited in the stand at Tawa New World and at the Lions Saturday Market at Outlet City.

Heads Up for Kids is supported by Resene Paints, Fastway Couriers and New World.

CALLING ALL DOG OWNERS!

If your dog is interested in having a run around with a few other dogs at Grasslees Reserve - in the dog exercise area adjoining the Main Road - this coming Saturday afternoon, 13 September at 4pm, then feel free to pop along. There were about half a dozen of us there on a recent Saturday afternoon, with almost as many dogs.

The photo features just three of the dogs. Getting them to pose is almost as difficult as herding cats!

Don't forget your doggie-doo bag!

THANKS TO NEW WORLD TAWA

The co-owner of New World Tawa, Robyn Hogg, is shown receiving a Certificate of Appreciation from Irene Corpuz, Past President of the Tawa Rotary Club.

Irene said “New World Tawa provided their van for use in last December’s Toot 4 Tucker collection, where we collected food gifts and donations from Tawa residents for the Salvation Army’s food bank.”

The supermarket also provided premises for this year’s Tawa Rotary Book Fair, and donates the raffle prizes at the Club’s weekly meetings, with funds raised going to charities. “Our Club really appreciates the help given by New World Tawa”, said Irene, “so that we are able to jointly bring benefits to the residents of Tawa.”

WOMEN'S BUSINESS NETWORK GROUP

Northern Women is an informal business network group for women who are in business, are self-employed, or are thinking of becoming self-employed. We have monthly meetings in Porirua on the third Friday of the month from 9.00-11.00am where you can let others know about your services, meet with like-minded women, display your flyers and products, listen to a speaker or discuss a business topic and be inspired. Also on offer are refreshments and potential new friendships.

On 19 September we are fortunate to have international speaker author, and entrepreneurial trainer Sandy Geyer address the group. Her talk is titled “Path of the Lion, Build your EnQ, Build your Business”. Sandy takes her audiences on an insightful and entertaining journey to clear all the complexity out of the entrepreneurial world and present a clear path for entrepreneurs to follow, to develop their “entrepreneurial intelligence” (EnQ) and build their businesses successfully.

Just $10 on the door, you are most welcome to join us:

9.00am in The Kiwi Room, North City Shopping Centre, Porirua (go in food court entrance, turn left and go upstairs). Bookings essential. RSVP Kim Chamberlain kim@chrysalisforwomen.com, 022 081 2586.

THE VOTE ON THE PROPOSAL TO LOWER THE CBD SPEED LIMIT

- by Malcolm Sparrow, Tawa-based Wellington City Councillor

Thank you to the 96 Tawa residents who supplied me with feedback on the Council’s proposal to lower the speed limit from 50km/h to 30km/h in more than 60 streets in Wellington’s CBD. Precisely two-thirds opposed the proposal to reduce the speed limit to 30km/h in the CBD.

The vote was taken at Council on Wednesday 27 August, with the proposal failing by 7 votes to 8.

The following sums up a common theme: “During the day when traffic is heavier and pedestrians are most ‘at risk’, 30-35km/h is often as fast as you can go anyway. This means the proposed speed reduction, from 50 to 30, would really only be effective at a time when traffic is flowing freely and when there are very few pedestrians about. At that time a reduced speed would be pointless and simply frustrate motorists. So any change is quite unnecessary.”

PROPOSAL TO LOWER CBD SPEED LIMIT contd

I can see both sides of the argument. However I agree with the above sentiment and that is how I cast my vote.

I do suspect it's only a matter of time before the CBD speed limit does see some sort of reduction. The key will be to strike a limit with which the majority of motorists will comply.

Had the recently defeated proposal been to reduce the speed limit to 40km/h, the chances are that it would have been approved as a more sensible option, catering for both pedestrian safety and the motoring public. Perhaps a middle-of-the-road approach (no pun intended) can yet be worked through.
